

Loyola Marymount University
Dean, School of Education

Loyola Marymount University (LMU) seeks a Dean to serve the School of Education (SOE) and the broader LMU community. The new Dean will enhance the excellence of the School in a manner consistent with LMU's distinctive Jesuit and Marymount Catholic mission of academic excellence in a diverse and inclusive setting.

As the chief academic and executive officer of the LMU SOE, the Dean is responsible for the vitality and administration of all programs and activities within the School. The Dean, as senior academic administrator, is a member of the Dean's Council and reports directly to the Executive Vice President and Provost. In close consultation and partnership with the faculty, the Dean ensures that college educational programs are exceptional in quality and designed to meet the needs of the University's diverse student population. The Dean also promotes high standards in teaching and scholarship. The Dean is responsible for donor development and fundraising for the School and represents the School to internal and external constituencies. The Dean also works with the School's Board of Visitors to support the connections between the School's programs, faculty scholarship, and external partners.

Reporting to the Dean are three Associate Deans and one Assistant Dean in addition to the academic department chairs. The Dean oversees an annual budget of $18.4M and reviews the budgets of the academic programs and other units in the SOE. The Dean works transparently and collaboratively with students, faculty, staff, fellow deans, administrators, alumni, donors, and community leaders.
