

Position Announcement
Department of Education
Concord University

Position:

Tenure track, open rank, with an emphasis on elementary education; language and literacy development expertise preferred.

Job Summary:

This is a full-time, tenure-track position to begin fall 2021 in the Department of Education at Concord University, Athens, WV.

Concord University, established in 1872, is a comprehensive, public institution with a strong commitment to programs of excellence in teacher education, business, pre-professional programs in the arts and sciences, and public service. The educator preparation program at Concord University is fully CAEP accredited and offers programs of study at the undergraduate and graduate level.

This position includes teaching, curriculum development, assessment, academic advising, scholarship/professional development, and service.

Duties and Responsibilities:

This position involves daily (M-F) teaching assignments on campus at the undergraduate level with some online teaching at the graduate level. Related responsibilities include on-site and remote supervision of teacher candidates with P-12 partner schools. Daily on-campus faculty presence is required to participate in curriculum development, student advisement, and service to the department, college, and university as well as active engagement within the community.

All tenure-track faculty are expected to demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence, on-going research, publication, and/or other professional activities, and service in order to enhance the preparation of educators and their future impact on P-12 students.

Minimum Education: ABD in Elementary Education or closely related field

Required Licenses/Certification:

Licensed or license eligible as an elementary education teacher in WV

At least five years successful teaching experience in a public, state supported elementary school setting.

Advanced degree in Education from an accredited institution.

An earned doctorate in education or complementary program is preferred and is required for consideration of tenure. Evidence of teaching and/or advising at the postsecondary level preferred; experience with course development; experienced and competent with use of instructional technology; expertise in language and literacy development; experience with or willingness to participate in accreditation work.

Required Skills:

Strong interpersonal and collaborative ability, effective teacher, scholarly and service driven, and adherence to professional ethical practices.

We seek applicants with enthusiasm and documented evidence of excellent teaching at the elementary level and preferably post-secondary level, intellectual vigor, strong human relations, strong communication skills, and a passion for the training and development of highly competent future educators.

Required Experience:

At least five years of teaching practice at the elementary level.

Salary:

Commensurate with education and experience.

Application process:

Review of application materials will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Application materials should include: a cover letter which explains professional education, experience, and qualifications for the position; a full curriculum vita; the names, addresses (including titles and institutions), email addresses, and telephone numbers of three references that may be contacted. All applications must be submitted through <https://jobs.concord.edu/>

Concord University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and encourages all qualified candidates to apply.