

The Department of Education at The University of Tampa invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor of Education in Special Education or related field.

The faculty and administrators in the College of Social Sciences, Mathematics, and Education, along with professional staff across the University, will provide meaningful support for your teaching and scholarship as elements of your personal and career development. We encourage you to grow professionally, and we support a healthy work-life integration to nurture that growth. The vision of the College of Social Sciences, Mathematics, and Education is "Empowering learners to make a difference." We are searching for teacher-scholars who will serve as mentors for our diverse student body, and who have a demonstrated commitment to the academic success of all students.

Required Qualifications

- Earned doctorate (by August 2025) in Special Education, Exceptional Student Education, or related field.
- Demonstrated record of research in the areas of Exceptional Student Education.
- Strong knowledge of IDEA classifications and federal laws related to Exceptional Student Education.
- Working knowledge of Exceptional Student Education state/national standards.
- Experience in higher education program development/accreditation.
- Demonstrated value for human diversity issues/related social concerns
- Possess leadership potential/strong commitment to research.

Preferred qualifications

- Experience in college level teaching.
- Demonstrated potential or a record of significant contributions to educational research.
- Documentation of successful teaching experience in a K-16 setting.
- Strong commitment to teaching excellence/student success.
- Experience with external funding.
- Publication of peer-reviewed articles.
- Experience with mentoring/coaching teachers, research studies, or teaching activities.

- Collaboration on interdisciplinary projects.
- Experience in successfully teaching undergraduate or graduate courses.
- Experience with teaching classes across various modalities.
- Experience developing online courses or modules.
- Evidence of leadership in scholarship, teaching, or service.
- Engaging in the community through partnerships.
- Excellent communication/interpersonal skills.
- Commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Responsibilities

- Developing and teaching a range of courses related to Special Education or related field.
- Engaging in and maintaining an active and impactful research agenda in the field of education.
- Developing and delivering innovative and engaging curriculum that aligns with current educational trends and standards.
- Mentoring/advising students contributing to their academic and professional growth.
- Collaborating with colleagues in committee work, on research projects, and publications.
- Participating in departmental/university service activities.
- Contributing to the development and enhancement of curriculum and program offerings.

Review of applications begins October 28, 2024. Salary range available upon request.

The University of Tampa is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer dedicated to excellence through diversity and does not discriminate based on age, race, sex, disability, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, marital status, gender identity, veteran status, or any other non-job-related criteria. The University of Tampa recognizes the importance of a multicultural community of students, faculty, and staff who seek to advance our commitment to diversity. The University invites applications from underrepresented groups and those who have academic experiences with diverse populations.

To apply, visit: <https://aptrkr.com/5692763>